We are the result of our hard work. Our passion for what we do makes us pioneers in our sector.

Dear Supporters,

You are our inspiration. So many times in our journey, you encouraged us through your support and messages and it fueled us to keep going. Our generation is the most talented and if we pooled it all together, the impact we can bring is huge. Helping connects people and the world becomes more unified, through collaborating, sharing ideas and sparking new innovative ways to help others. This is what happened to us.

With your partnership, it was our best year yet as we doubled all our impact and finances. All credit goes to you. Through your support and encouragements, we tackled and overcame all new frontiers. We doubled our clean water initiative and now we have a total of 12 water wells.

We also identified and launched a soap business bearing the name, CARE, aimed at empowering women. FOREFRONT also launched and is on track to completing our first primary school this year. All of this aimed at fulfilling our mission of enabling every person, equipping leaders and establishing self-sustaining communities.

Being on the ground and hearing stories of impacted lives, I can tell you firsthand that the impact is real and the communities we serve are inspired. More villagers are rallying together to invest in their communities! In this annual report, you will see how FOREFRONT Charity worked with the local communities and the endeavors we worked on together. Kindly join us in learning more about our honest work, our trusted partners, and our sustainable service.

Let us be the generation that is remembered to leave the biggest impact on history by being selfless and helping others. There is power in the coming together of all people, regardless of their background, for a good course. We have been and will be unstoppable.

Yours faithfully,

PALLAPATLA, INDIA

FOREFRONT's mission is to help underdeveloped communities achieve lasting sustainability using a four-phase approach: water/sanitation, education, medical care, and social justice. Through open forums in India, we heard from local communities that it's not just water that they need, but they need 'More Than One Solution'.

We want to be at the FOREFRONT of change in underdeveloped communities. By leveraging the diverse skill sets of our team and local partners, we provide innovative solutions that will achieve lasting sustainability. Once sustainability is achieved, the sites use their newfound resources to equip neighboring communities in need. Our approach involves four phases:

PHASE ONE: CLEAN WATER

750 million people lack access to clean water. That is 2.5x the population of the United States. Other areas of sustainability cannot be achieved without meeting this basic need first. That is why our first phase is dedicated to building wells that will provide water that is accessible and safe to drink.

India has a handwashing rate of less than 30%. Washing hands with soap can reduce the risk of diarrheal diseases by up to 47%. That's why we are providing hand soap & soap-making kits to prevent illnesses. In addition, we aim to provide proper sanitation for girls so they are able to attend school.

PHASE TWO: EDUCATION

57 million children around the globe do not have access to schools. Education is crucial to breaking the cycle of poverty, which is why our second phase is dedicated to building schools. Our long-term goal is that the students will attend college and reinvest their newly acquired skills and knowledge into their communities

PHASE THREE: MEDICAL CARE

75-85% of people in developing nations cannot receive medical treatment, which means most of the world is suffering needlessly. We want to alleviate this dire issue through the construction of clinics that will provide ethical, accessible and affordable healthcare. A healthy community means more children can attend school and more adults can enter the workforce.

PHASE FOUR: EMPOWERMENT

27 million people worldwide are victims of human trafficking. We want to build safehouses that will provide homes, vocational training and counseling for marginalized members of a community, particularly those who are victims of sexual abuse and human trafficking. Our goal is to empower more women to enter the workforce and start their own businesses.

THE MULTIPLICATION EFFECT

When we choose to invest in a community with our four-phase approach, we are committing to them for the long haul. This first community is what we call an "alpha site." Once the alpha site achieves sustainability, our local partners will help them to use their new resources to equip neighboring communities ("beta sites"). The ultimate result is a global network of change where people are helping each other to move development forward.

OUR LOCAL PARTNERS

Leveraging the expertise of local partners is a critical part of our four-phase strategy. We work with our local partners closely to identify areas with the highest need and create localized solutions.

INNOVATION

Behind all of our projects, we champion new ways of looking at old problems. Local, community-based solutions means working with what we already have. This isn't a limitation--but rather, a chance to spark creativity, showing that innovation is part of the solution.

> That We Receive"

TIMELINE

In December 2016, we were awarded the prestigious Dream Blue Foundation grant. This milestone paved the way the path to the creation of the FOREFRONT school.

FOREFRONT'S architectural team was able to finalize the school design layout in September 2017.

After much due diligence, FOREFRONT was able to purchase 2 acres of land in Kolluru, India in May 2017.

Local government approved all construction permits and licenses in January 2018. Construction begins.
